Bus Simulator

Learn how to drive a virtual bus at EGX Rezzed this April!

Moenchengladbach, February 28, 2019 – EGX Rezzed 2019, the little brother of EGX, the largest indie-focused games event in the UK, is set to take place at London's Tobacco Dock on the 4th-6th April 2019. Visitors will enjoy playable pre-release games with a strong focus on indie titles on both PC and console, developer sessions by well-known game designers and the opportunity to chat with developers on the show floor.

This year EGX Rezzed will see a new addition to its game roster that will take players on a gameplay journey they might not have experienced before: virtual bus driving! astragon Entertainment and stillalive studios are very happy to present their game Bus Simulator which was successfully released on PC last June and is now coming to PlayStation®4 and Xbox One for the first time in 2019. EGX Rezzed is also the first opportunity for players in the UK to try the game hands-on on PlayStation®4 as part of the Unreal® showcase.

While driving officially licensed buses by well-known makers such as Mercedes-Benz, Setra, MAN and Iveco Bus is of course a huge part of the game, Bus Simulator has even more to offer to players and bus fans alike. Within a large, lively world that consists of the fictional city of Seaside Valley and its surroundings, players will be able to manage their very own bus company, create their own routes and hire new drivers. Either solo or with up to three friends in the game's synchronous multiplayer mode, virtual bus tycoons will be able to unlock and then freely explore 12 different, unique districts - from the narrow roads of Seaside Valley's historical centre to pleasant cross-country drives and charming rural villages. Different weather and traffic conditions, interactions with passengers, interesting missions as well as upcoming additional content will keep players of Bus Simulator entertained for a long time to come.
